BIG IDEA

We worship because God can heal.

Psalms 69:13–18, 147:3; Luke 13:10–17

ABOUT THIS WEEK

Like shimmering coral reefs full of life, God's healing power brings beauty and restoration in unexpected ways. This week, we'll see how God hears our cries for help and how Jesus healed a woman who responded with heartfelt praise. This helps us remember that, no matter what we're facing, we can celebrate with wonder and confidence, knowing we worship because God can heal.

WHAT?

The Great Barrier Reef in Australia is the largest reef system in the world. But there's a problem. Over half of the Great Barrier Reef has died since 1995, making it uninhabitable for many plants and animals.

We can all relate to the feeling of hoping for restoration after a difficult time. We long for healing from broken situations and those that just need mending. Thankfully, restoration through resilience is a possibility—it's even a promise made by God. When we experience damage or brokenness, we can look to God for help.

SO WHAT?

Psalms 69:13–18 gives us a great example of how we can respond when we're in the middle of a hurtful experience—we can turn to God. This psalmist knew what was possible. Even though it hurt, God would help get through it.

Luke 13:10–17 reminds us that when we ask God to heal us, it can happen in unexpected ways. While we tend to focus on the incredible stories of God's healing, the healing God promises goes deeper—it's spiritual and emotional, too. And we can respond with worship and praise, knowing that God makes the impossible, possible. We worship because God can heal.

NOW WHAT?

So, how can we worship in moments of hurt and brokenness?

- MOVE CLOSER TO JESUS: Instead of trying to fix matters on our own, we can take steps closer to Jesus.
- CALL OUT FOR HELP: Ask God to heal and look to the people around you for strength.
- TRUST WHEN IT DOESN'T MAKE SENSE: We can hold our expectations loosely and trust God to help us grow.
- WORSHIP BECAUSE GOD HEALS: When the healing happens, respond in worship. We worship because God can heal.
